HOUSE OF MOTHER'S AGENDA

25 September 1965

The Mother: Ah! What have you brought? Is the Bulletin finished? Satprem: Except for the aphorism. M: What is it?

111 - Knowledge is a child with its achievements; for when it has found out something, it runs about the streets whooping and shouting; Wisdom conceals hers for a long time in a thoughtful and mighty silence.

M: This is an experience I had some two years ago. What he says here, I had the living experience of it - half a day of living experience; at the time I could have told you very interesting things, but now I find it old, old, so old, far behind.

S: I'd like to ask you a question, and it's linked to what you said just now, when you had that fever while lying on your bed, and above, you said, there was a wonderful, immutable Peace - what's the power of that Peace? What's the power of that Silence? When one rises above, one enters a sort of vast silence, frozen, all-pervading, but what's the power of that silence? Does it do anything?

M: That's what people in the past used to seek when they wanted to get out of life: they would go into a trance, leave their bodies still, and then they would enter that, and they would be perfectly happy. And for the Sannyasins who got themselves buried alive, it was the same thing; they said, "Now my work is over" (they would make beautiful sentences), "it is over, and I am going into samadhi." And they would have themselves buried alive; they would enter a room or whatever, then it would be closed, and it was all over. And that's what happened: they would go into a trance, and naturally after a time their bodies would dissolve, while they were in Peace.

S: But Sri Aurobindo says this Silence is "mighty." M: Mighty, yes. S: Well, I'd like in fact to know in what way it is mighty? Because you have a feeling that you could stay in it for an eternity... M: Not for an eternity - for Eternity. S: ... without its changing anything.

M: Yes, because it isn't manifested, it's outside the manifestation. But what Sri Aurobindo wants is for us to bring it down here. That's just the difficulty. That's it. And one must accept infirmity and the very appearance of stupidity and everything, and there isn't one being in fifty million (Sri Aurobindo told me I was the only one!... [laughing] It may be so!) who has the courage for that. Just yesterday I was looking at this body, and there were no... the reactions that might be called "personal" were truly reduced to an imperceptible minimum, which means there was a sense... I can't say a "universal" sense because it's not certain that Matter in other universes follows the same law, I don't know (I don't know - I once knew: there was a time when I was in contact with this and that and I could have said, but now I don't want to concern myself with it: I am concerned only with the earth). Because this is always there, too: the possibility of escaping by going elsewhere. Lots of people did that in fact: they went off elsewhere, into another, more or less subtle world. Of course, there are millions of ways to escape - there is only one way to stay, and that's to truly have courage and endurance, to accept all the appearance of infirmity, the appearance of powerlessness, the appearance of incomprehension, the appearance, yes, of a negation of the Truth. But if one doesn't accept all that, nothing will ever be changed! Those who want to remain great, luminous, strong, powerful and what have you, well, let them stay up there, they can do nothing for the earth. And it's a very small thing (a very small thing because the consciousness is sufficient not to be affected in the least), but the incomprehension is so general and total! In other words, you receive abuse, expressions of contempt and all the rest, precisely because of what you do, because according to them (all the "great intelligences" of the earth), you have renounced your divinity. They don't say it like that, they say, "What? You claim to have a divine consciousness, and then..." And this manifests in everyone and every circumstance. Now and then, someone for a moment has a flash, but that's quite exceptional, while "Well, show your power!", that's everywhere.

S: For them, the Divine on earth must be all-powerful, obviously.

M: That's right: "Show your power, change the world. And to begin with, do as I want; because the first, most important thing is to do what I want - show your power"! (long silence) Ah, but this won't do for an aphorism, it's not an answer to what Sri Aurobindo says! No, I told you, I had the experience long ago. I remember, it was so lovely, so clear, so luminous, and I expressed it so well to myself (!), it would have made a very nice little article! But now it's there, behind (gesture over the shoulder), far, far behind. So I don't know what to do. I think unless you have a question to ask (but you see the condition!), we'll take up our Savitri.

(to be continued next week)

The Ponder
Corner

When you want to prepare something within you, that is how it is, it is like the chick in the egg. You need a very long time, and this without having the least result, never getting discouraged, and continuing your effort, absolutely regularly, as though you had eternity before you and, moreover, as though you were quite disinterested about the result. You do the work because you do it. And then, suddenly, one day, it bursts and you see before you the full result of your work.

Covid-19 UPDATE

From the WC/Covid19 Task Force (from 10th May):

We have requested and received information from the Vanur Block Medical Officer about cases as of yesterday, May 9th, in the Vanur Block in which Auroville is located. We are sharing this with the community for awareness and to address the rumors and fears of cases in our neighboring villages. There are currently about 20 Covid-19 positive cases (19 active, Kottakuppam case has recovered) in Vanur Block (see map here). Most of them are in around Eraiyur village (8 cases) close to Mailam (western edge of Vanur Block). The rest of the cases (that are closer to us) are as follows:

- Vanur Colony -- 5 cases
- Pulichipallam -- 3 cases
- Kiliyanur -- 1 case
- Nallavur -- 1 case
- Nesal -- 1 case (this person didn't have any contact locally and lives in an isolated house which has been quarantined)

Although there are containment zones around these cases and no one should be leaving those zones, if any of your workers come from any of these areas, please ensure that they do not come to work until the area has been declared clear. Also, if you have friends/relatives in these villages, it is highly advised that you don't visit them, and they shouldn't be visiting you here in Auroville. We will update the community (and the map) as and when we receive information about more cases in the coming days. Thank you all for your continued patience and support.

Visitors not to be encouraged to come to Auroville - You may have heard that some domestic travel has resumed (special trains only) and some more domestic travel relaxations might be coming in the near future. We would like to remind you that we are still in a state of lockdown and there is still a danger of spread of the virus. Auroville is still not taking new guests and this situation will continue until further notice. Therefore, even if some people are now able to travel, please do not encourage any visitors to come to Auroville, including family members or friends.

We look forward to your understanding and cooperation in this, in order to continue to keep Auroville and its immediate neighbors safe. - The Working Committee and Covid-19 Task Force

Guidelines for Workplaces - This attached document has instructions on ways to prevent the spread of COVID-19 in the workplace after the relaxation of the lockdown. Ideally, this needs to be followed for coming months until the Covid-19 pandemic is under control. We would like to ask Unit Executives / Managers to review their workplace/office setting, so that they reorganize it to accommodate these protocols.

This Govt Order (<https://stopcorona.tn.gov.in/wp-content/uploads/2020/03/lock-down-go.pdf>) contains SOPs, but the guidelines attached below are more elaborate and made specifically for Auroville context. We recommend all Unit holders to read Annexure 4 of the Govt Order which is for offences and punishments, for their information. Thank you,-
Covid-19 Task Force (with the support of the Working Committee)

 Workplaces premises guidelines .pdf

Pondy passes- We often receive requests to issue passes for employees living in Pondicherry to come to Auroville. The Working Committee, however, cannot issue a pass to any person from Pondicherry to come to Auroville and go back, or vice versa. For that, a letter co-signed by both the Collector of Villupuram District as well as the Collector of Pondicherry will be required. This procedure may take quite some time. According to the Puducherry Government Order of 6th May, movement into and out of Pondicherry is allowed without passes for medical purposes either with an ambulance or in a taxi with an appointment letter from a doctor or medical facility. Transport of supplies, both essential and non-essential, is allowed using cargo vehicles/load carriers. Be aware that things may change as the realities on the ground change.

ITS, UTS and Sunrise Taxi have passes to go to Pondy for medical purposes. ITS offers this service free of charge.

From the BCC: You may be aware that the BCC has a nutrition scheme allocated for paying Solar Kitchen lunch for children during school holidays, when schools are closed. Because Solar Kitchen is closed and cannot give tiffin for children, this budget can be made available to parents who are in financial constraints and really need this extra support. If you feel this is an urgent need for you, please send a request to bcc@auroville.org.in before 20th May '20 with

- the name of the parent
- account number for the transfer (it will be transferred to the KIND account)
- name and age of your child/children
- name of the school

For children aged 1-6 years the amount is Rs 1,000 per month.

For children aged 7-18 years the amount is Rs 1,500 per month.

For Newcomers, the lunch amount of Rs 1,730 is part of the monthly contributions to the School Participation fee.

If you are in a difficult financial situation and need to reduce it, please send your request with the above details to the following email address: bcc.checkpoint@auroville.org.in before 20th May '20

In case you have applied earlier and not received a budget, please send your request again. This is a temporary measure for the time of the COVID crisis for the month of May. In June we will have to review the situation again.

Sincerely, Christine, Enrica, Hans, Inge, Jacques, Mahi, Margarita, Meena, Rathinam, Stephanie

Cycle Kiosk Open Mornings

You may have noticed the Kiosk was not fully 'closed' - some small urgent repairs got done by the Aurovillian in-charge even while we were 'closed' these past weeks. Now we will be open mornings again, as long as things continue in the current trend, however we don't know if this will be maintained. So, it is a good time to take care of pending cycle repairs if you need some.

A reminder - Cycle Kiosk does not 'make money.' - it is a break even venture and has no reserves. If your FS account is empty, it would be better to defer service, as it is really difficult to manage if people delay covering the cost of their repairs for weeks or months. Hope to see you and your cycle soon.

WORKING GROUP REPORTS

From the BCC: Financial Support during this emergency

The FAMC and the BCC realize that many people may require financial support during this emergency. There are a few options that people in need may consider.

- Temporary Emergency Maintenance
- Contribution reduction or suspension
- Loan restructuring or suspension

Please be aware that any of these measures reduces our pool of money and consequently our ability to support everyone.

Please only make these requests if you are truly in need. Currently, Children's Maintenances are not included; the BCC and the FAMC will look into the possibility of including some Children's Maintenances.

Temporary Emergency Maintenance

A temporary emergency maintenance (TEM) budget has been created under the BCC. The TEM will run from May to August 2020. The FAMC and BCC will review the situation at the beginning of August to assess if it can and should be extended.

It is meant for Aurovilians working in activities, units or services who are no longer able to receive a maintenance from their unit or service due to the Covid-19 emergency, AND truly are in need. The maintenance will be the same as a half-time City Service maintenance. The allocation shall be:

Allocation Destination	Amount
FS Cash Account	3,000
FS Kind Account	990
Health Fund	450
Lunch Scheme	1,870
In-Kind Scheme	1,700
Total	8,010

Anyone already receiving Rs. 8,010 or more should not apply.

The application must be made by the unit/activity on behalf of the individuals in need. Only those who are truly in need should apply:

1. The unit executives will first need to get the approval of the Trustees who will evaluate the health of the unit and send their recommendation to the BCC. As part of the approval, the Trustees must complete the Financial Health Check for the unit, if it has not already been done. This Excel Workbook has been sent to all Trustees and Units. After which,
2. The executive should contact BCC either by email (bccoffice@auroville.org.in) or by a visit to the Town Hall, 2nd Floor, in the morning (9:30 am to 12:30 pm).
3. BCC will then inform the unit if they are able to accommodate its request and it will then provide the unit with details, including starting date, and the amounts allocated.

This is being offered in the spirit of ensuring basic needs to all Aurovilians, as much as possible with our limited resources and in anticipation of a decline in the economy ahead of us in the near future.

Contribution Reduction or Suspension

Individual Aurovilians who are contributing as individuals may request the City Service Contribution Group (cscontribution@auroville.org.in) to reduce or suspend their contribution. This group will review your situation.

Activities and Units that can no longer make contributions for Aurovilians working in the unit should apply to the BCC (bcc@auroville.org.in). The BCC will review the unit's request.

Loan Restructuring or Suspension

Loan restructuring means reducing the payments and paying over a longer period of time. Loan suspension means suspending payments. Aurovilians and Units that have loans and are no longer able to make loan payments may request their loan to be restructured or suspended.

Unit loans have been allocated by the ABC Support Group via the ABC Loan Fund. Therefore, units with loans should approach the ABC Research Group for restructuring or payment suspension (abcoffice@auroville.org.in). The ABC Research Group will forward their recommendation to the Loan Group.

Individual, Housing, and Education Loans have been allocated via Financial Service. If your loan is more than 1 lakh, it may be considered for restructuring or suspension.

You may contact Financial Service at financialservice@auroville.org.in

Update from AVAG on village relief

Auroville Village Action Group is about to launch its second phase of relief distribution. We estimate that there are 4,000 families in the Auroville bio-region and 1,000 in distant villages who are in need. We are working with the local communities and receiving requests to support many people who work in the informal sector such as masons, painters, agricultural workers, artisans and crafts persons, taxi/rickshaw drivers and small sole traders reliant on passing tourists.

This upscale is a response to a shift from the first phase where food packs supported 335 migrant workers from Kulpalayam, Periya Mudaliar Chavadi, Edayanchavadi, Sanjeevi Nagar and Alankuppam and the tribals in Edayanchavadi, Rayapetta and near Morattandi and stranded travelers (poor families living in Morattandi to avail free treatment in JIPMER). During this first phase 24 physically disabled got Rs.1000 bank transfers and with the financial support of our women's federation another 355 women got Rs.500 bank transfers. The 24 physically disabled from distant areas were recommended by Velu from Gas service and the Deep Adaptation group.

We have been humbled by the support so far from the Auroville family both here and abroad. We have received 124 donations totaling 11.9 lakh from Auroville and AVI Centres. We have also received an in-kind donation of 1770 kgs of rice purchased with the help of the Hers team and contributions of masks from Miniature and Colours of Nature, soaps from Eco Duties, and hand sanitizers from Maroma. We would like to acknowledge the fundraising support of the Deep Adaptation group, AVI Centres, and the Udhayam Women's Federation which is the self-help network of women's groups associated with AVAG. The women have transferred 500Rs into bank accounts of 355 families in need (mentioned above) and offered 4.8 lakh that was used for oil for the food packs.

The selection of beneficiaries and distribution has been a combined effort and we would like to acknowledge the commitment of the AVAG community workers and the local community groups such as the Panchayats secretaries, Paalam youth and Women's groups, Yatra, and Aurovilians from local education organisations who were involved in the difficult work of selection of the most in-need beneficiaries, distribution of tokens, procurement and deliver (with verification of need). This team has really stretched to ensure that the money donated was used as effectively as possible and that those in most need were looked after. Beneficiaries expressed gratitude to Auroville for the care and the quality of the food received.

Phase 2 began last week with local-level meetings to identify and agree on the list of the most in need in the villages of Kuilapayalam, Edayanchavadi, Kottakarai, Ambek nagar, Irumbai, Alankuppam, Annai Nagar, Sanjeevi nagar, Thuruvai, Rayapudhpakkam, Aravindapuram, Rayapettai, and Morattandi. This list is prepared by the local community and Auroville educational reps but is verified by house to house checks by AVAG staff. The food is being procured and the foodpacks will contain 5kg of rice, 1kg Dal, 1litre of oil, 1/2 kg of masala powder and a mask. We hope to have funds to deliver this to 4,000 families in the immediate villages and 1,000 families in the poorest more distant villages later this week and early next week.

Here is a link to a short film on the first phase distribution, <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=xvfQDasqS-l&feature=youtu.be> and attached a report written by Bindu (with edit contribution from AVAG) on the impact of Covid our area and the first response. We have a balance of 8 lakh to start 2nd phase distribution which will be a Rs. 500 food pack and a mask. We will need 17 lakh more to cover all 5000 families. Donations are being kindly accepted at financial centre account 0226 or by credit card through Auroville donation gateway and though the transfer links and a crowd funding page is given on AVAG web site https://villageaction.in/.

Once there was the Great Churning.
Everything was on lockdown.
And the lockdown was extended,
and then extended, and then again extended.
It seemed as if there's no end to it...
But when the Great Churning was finally,
finally over
divine nectar flowed and flowed.
The deities were so delighted with this gift that they decided to share it with the people.
And they named it...

Understanding the Shadow: The Dual Nature Within Us ~ by Manoj Pavitran

It is a very common experience to encounter some tendencies within ourselves that are exactly the opposite of what aspires to become, the tendencies that we often find nearly impossible to overcome regardless of all the battles we wage against them. Some people may even work around this embarrassing situation by adopting some form of philosophical narratives that claim to stand on the ground beyond all dualities of right and wrong or good and evil. But the fact remains that these tendencies which are almost in direct opposition to our ideals coexist within ourselves possessing an active will of its own and standing on the way of our progress. Most people are not necessarily aware of these contradictions within themselves especially when they have not begun the work of transforming themselves. It is only when one begins the work of transforming one's habitual and unconscious nature, these opposing tendencies and forces show up with vehement intensity. It is relatively easy to see the contradictions, the dual nature, in others especially among those who are of larger than life proportion. While this double nature exists in all, it becomes much easily visible in people who are larger personalities commanding impressive capacities and stand for great ideals. For example, when we study the life of Gandhiji, we find his exploration of sexuality crossing boundaries that make the lovers of Gandhiji look for a philosophical justification that works around this glaring feature of his life. Such a dual nature exists in all of us and it is important to understand this phenomenon if we are to transform it.

Light and Shadow, Our Two Sides

According to the integral perspective, this dual nature is something quite universal, Sri Aurobindo writes:

*"There are always two sides to every human being. In Western occultism they call them the good and the evil Persona (personality)" *1*

*"As for the two natures, it is only one form of the perpetual duality in human nature from which nobody escapes, so universal that many systems recognise it as a standing feature to be taken account of in their discipline, the two Personae, one bright, one dark, in every human being. If that were not there, Yoga would be an easy walk-over and there would be no struggle." *2*

*"...a double being (or a double nature in the special sense) refers to those who have two sharply contrasted parts of their being without as yet such a linking control over them. Sometimes they are all for the heights and then they are quite all right – sometimes all for the abysses and then they care nothing for the heights, even sneer or rail at them and give full rein to the lower man. Or they substitute for the heights a smoky volcano summit in the abyss. These are extreme examples, but others while they do not go so far, yet are now one thing, now just the opposite." *3*

The Role of the Shadow

Sri Aurobindo explains further in a letter to a sadhak, the role of the shadow in the occult economy of things:

*"What you say about the "Evil Persona" interests me greatly as it answers to my consistent experience that a person greatly endowed for the work has, always or almost always – perhaps one ought not to make a too rigid universal rule about these things – a being attached to him, sometimes appearing like a part of him, which is just the contradiction of the thing he centrally represents in the work to be done. Or, if it is not there at first, not bound to his personality, a force of this kind enters into his environment as soon as he begins his movement to realise. Its business seems to be to oppose, to create stumblings and wrong conditions, in a word, to set before him the whole problem of the work he has started to do. It would seem as if the problem could not, in the occult economy of things, be solved otherwise than by the predestined instrument making the difficulty his own." *4*

The same phenomena were reconfirmed by the Mother:

*"...everyone possesses in a large measure, and the exceptional individual in an increasing degree of precision, two opposite tendencies of character, in almost equal proportions, which are like the light and the shadow of the same thing. Thus, someone who has the capacity of being exceptionally generous will suddenly find an obstinate avarice rising up in his nature, the courageous man will be a coward in some part of his being and the good man will suddenly have wicked impulses. In this way life seems to endow everyone not only with the possibility of expressing an ideal, but also with contrary elements representing in a concrete manner the battle he has to wage and the victory he has to win for the realisation to become possible." *5*

The Battle

The dual nature within us turns our life into a battlefield, not only an inner battle with our own inner tendencies but also often an outer battle with the psychological forces of the people and society around us. This idea is very ancient and can be found in many religious scriptures.

"The fundamental idea of the Rig Veda is a struggle between the Gods and their dark opponents, between the Masters of Light, sons of Infinity, and the children *of Division and Night, a battle in which man takes part and which is reflected in all his inner life and action. This was also a fundamental principle of the religion of Zoroaster.” *6*

In the puranic literature of India, this gets translated into the story of the battle between Devas, the beings of light and Asuras, the being of darkness. It is a profoundly deep and symbolic representation of inner and outer battle people go through in the process of their spiritual evolution. The narrative continues even now in modern forms like Star Wars and The Lord of The Rings expressive of some or other aspects of a complex battle that is fought within all of us.

Water Group Report and Reflections, Jan-April 2020

Water Group Update:

Members of the Water Group presented to the Governing Board in January and updated it on the water situation. Some members also met with planning advisor, David Stein, in January to discuss the potential for a bioregional plan. Water Group visited Sacred Groves and took a tour with Manu. Sacred Groves has 400,000 liters of rainwater storage capacity, and it was nearly full at the time of our visit. Similar rainwater catchment systems must be integrated into future constructions in Auroville! Manu was open to discussing the pros and cons of his system and lessons learned along the way. In February, we hosted two visiting filmmakers and screened their films on community-driven underground water management to a full audience at MMC, followed by a Q&A. Finally, three of the March Water Talks happened, but the final two were postponed due to the current situation. Thank you to all the speakers and participants, as well as to an anonymous donor who supported this work financially. April has been a time of pause and reflection for the Water Group.

Relevant Publications:

We draw your attention to a few important and relevant recent publications including “Water, Auroville, and Coronavirus” (<https://auroville.org.in/article/79286>), in which we discuss how the current situation might impact our water resources. Also read the two recent reports by CSR Geomatics, “Report of Three Years DST Project” (<https://auroville.org.in/article/79237>) which addresses water security of an urban settlement through a multi-sourcing model, as well as “Well Monitoring Report 2017-2020” (<https://auroville.org.in/article/79238>).

On Borewells

Part of our ongoing work is to advise L’avenir d’Auroville on new borewell applications that they receive. Let’s be clear: the position of the Water Group is that finding other sources of water and/or sharing water is always preferred to tapping into our already overexploited aquifers. As such, we will do our best to look for alternatives to digging a new well, and borewell digging requests will only be approved under exceptional circumstances. Moreover, let’s remember that water is a basic human right and a common resource for everyone to share. Therefore, you do not have individual ownership over your borewell; you are the steward of a common resource.
